Preferred salutation of reader,

I think the introduction of a deposit-return scheme is welcome. Plastic waste is such a huge issue and there are many necessary interventions required to address it. This proposal should be implemented and complemented by further measures aimed at reducing plastic waste a priori.

From my reading of the consultation documents I believe the centralised operation model would be the better option. A deposit of 20c seems like an appropriate amount. It would be great to see glass bottles included in the DRS also.

Kind regards,
