A chara,
I fully support the proposal for a Deposit Return scheme for plastic bottles and drink cans.

I also think there should be a separate bin at bottle bank recycling centres for the very large 5-10litre water bottles that many households use, and it wouldn't bother me whether there was a refund on these or not. I'm finding that these take up far too much room in the normal household blue bins for general recycling.

Yours sincerely
