

“ That householders included in the Just Transition areas be allowed a Grant if they move from solid fuel to Pellet Stoves,”

I see in my work and as a local Cllr that in my area , Edenderry ,that householders are changing over , mostly because of the shortage or uncertainty of turf , most of these people are elderly (70/80) and are really being forced into change which is costing up to €6,000. This is very excessive cost on elderly people who have to change at this stage of their lives , through no fault of their own and I feel strongly that a “grant” be given towards the high cost of this change of home heating and those involved in lowering the carbon footprint in their homes. I feel the grant would encourage many more to make the change.
