

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

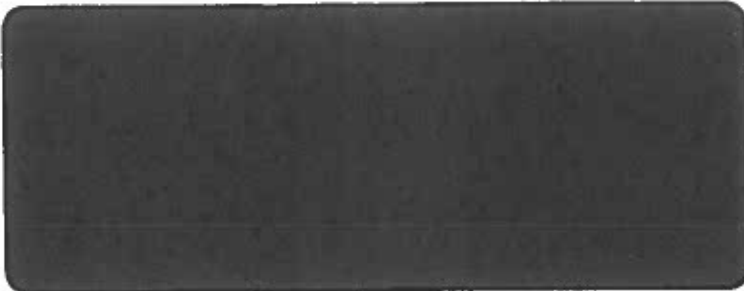

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

ḐRÁITREACḐ NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

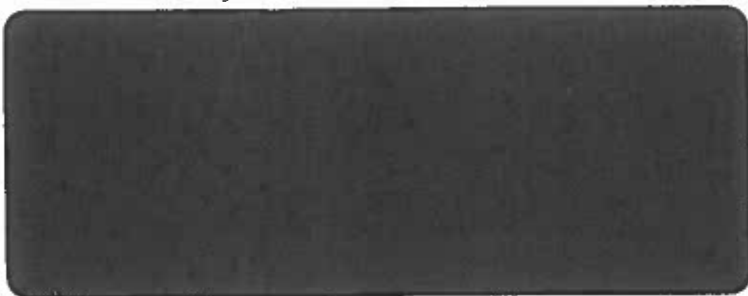

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

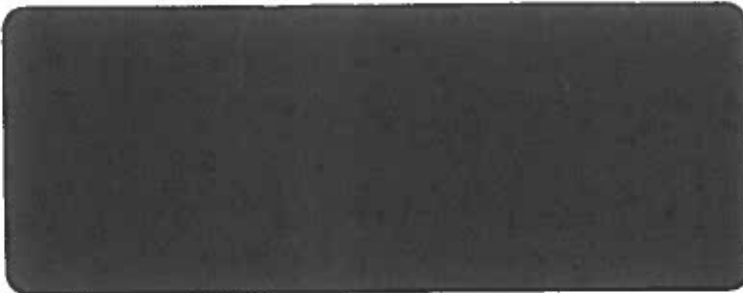

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

ḂṚÁITREACT NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

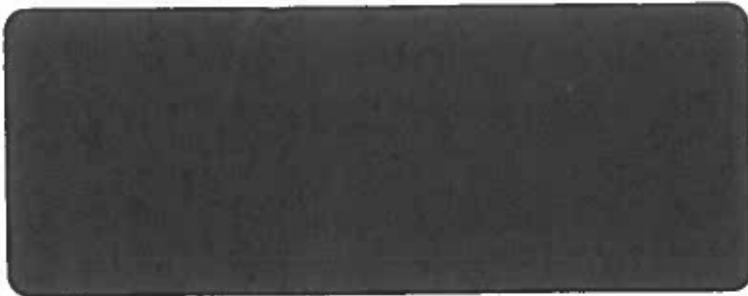

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Re: Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

I wish to express my full support for Minister Sean Kyne regarding the introduction of this Bye Law.

Furthermore, I believe that additional measures should be taken to protect our indigenous Salmonid species.

- 1. There should be no bag limit on pike in designated salmonid waters, as these predators have been the cause of the extermination of salmonids throughout the world.
- 2. All the designated wild brown trout fisheries should be given the same legislative protection under this Bye Law.
- 3. There should be two distinctly separate boards overseeing the game and coarse fisheries, with the board overseeing trout and salmon fisheries being geographically located along the western seaboard.
- 4. The close season as it applies to trout and salmon angling in the Designated Salmonid Waters, should equally apply to all angling activities.

Yours Sincerely

A solid black rectangular box used to redact the signature of the sender.

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

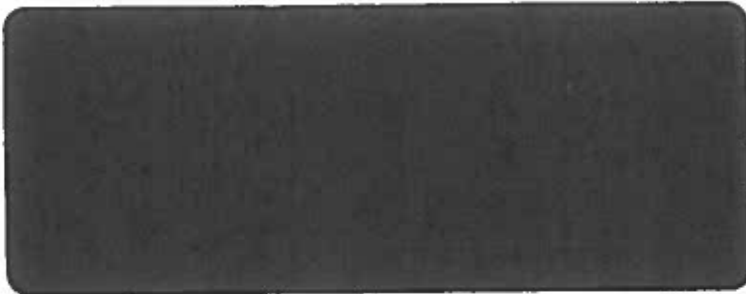

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

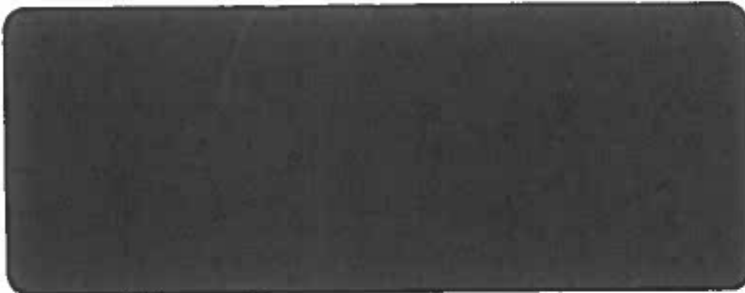

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

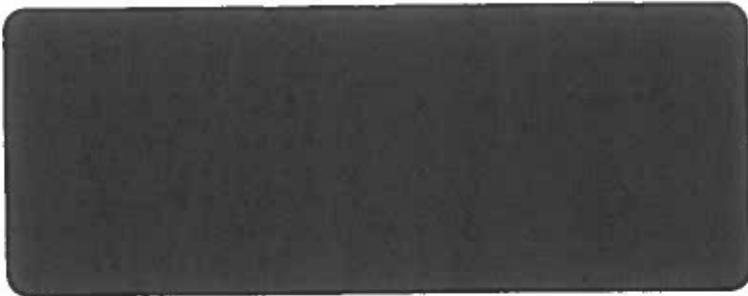

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

ḂṚÁÍṚEACṚ NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

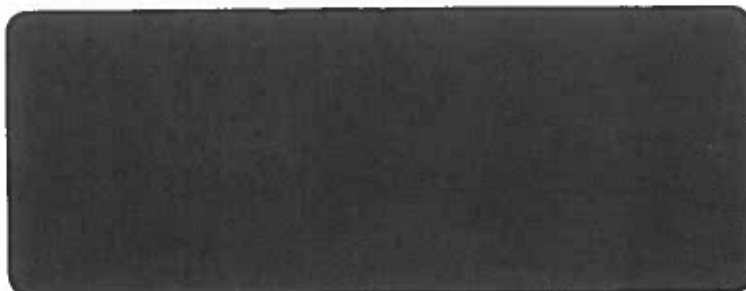

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

[Faint, illegible text, possibly a stamp or footer]

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

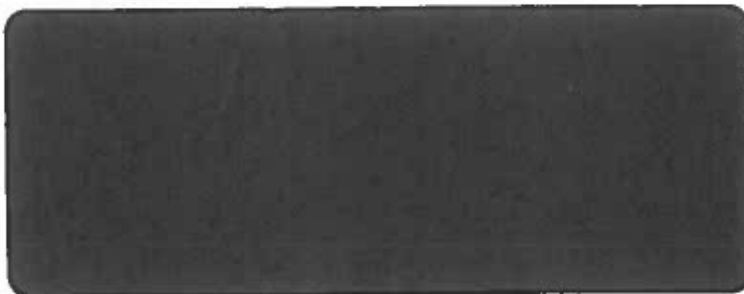

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

BRÁITREACHT NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

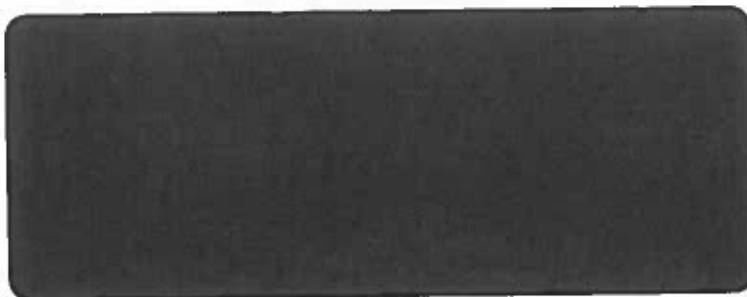

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

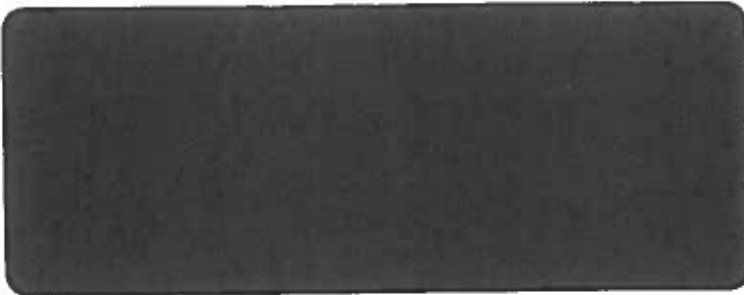

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

A solid black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Re: Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

I wish to express my full support for Minister Sean Kyne regarding the introduction of this Bye Law.

Furthermore, I believe that additional measures should be taken to protect our indigenous Salmonid species.

- 1. There should be no bag limit on pike in designated salmonid waters, as these predators have been the cause of the extermination of salmonids throughout the world.
- 2. All the designated wild brown trout fisheries should be given the same legislative protection under this Bye Law.
- 3. There should be two distinctly separate boards overseeing the game and coarse fisheries, with the board overseeing trout and salmon fisheries being geographically located along the western seaboard.
- 4. The close season as it applies to trout and salmon angling in the Designated Salmonid Waters, should equally apply to all angling activities.

Yours Sincerely

A solid black rectangular box used to redact the signature of the sender.

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

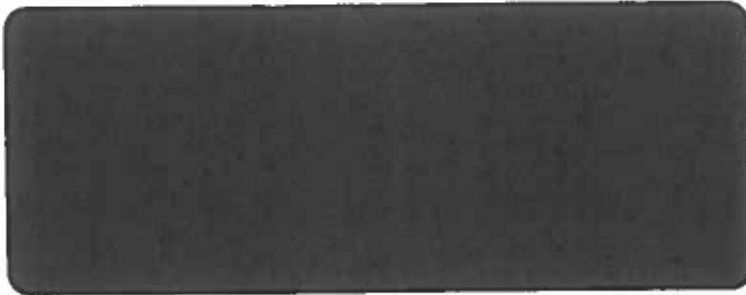

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

BRÁITREACHT NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

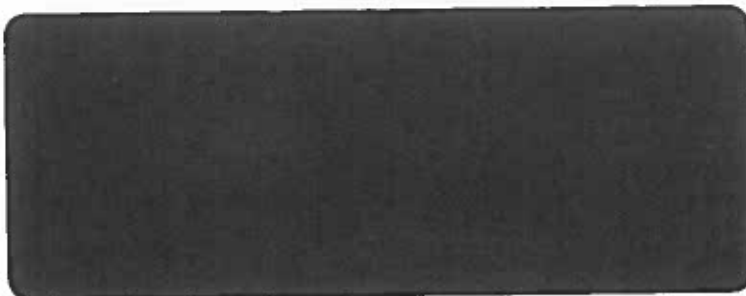

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

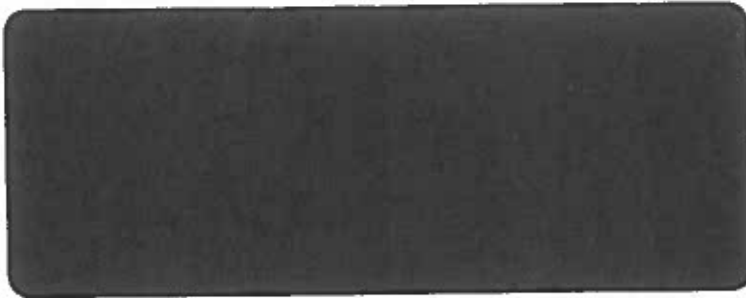

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

A solid black rectangular redaction box covering the signature of the sender.

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

A solid black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

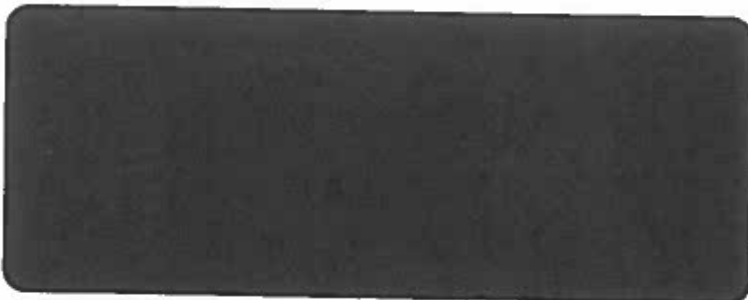

I am delighted and fully support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

The bag limit for pike should be unrestricted as these are world famous brown trout fisheries and pike are detrimental to their wellbeing.

Unless these waters are properly protected from pike they will disappear in our lifetime as renowned brown trout fisheries.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

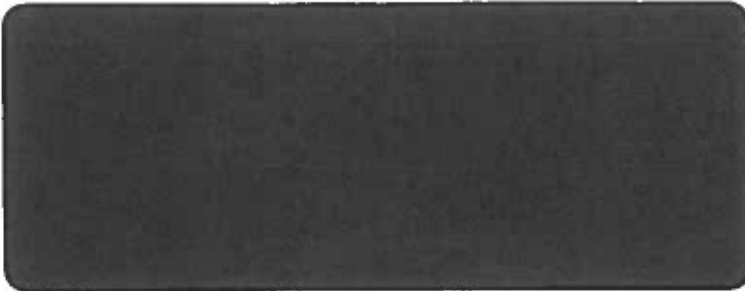

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

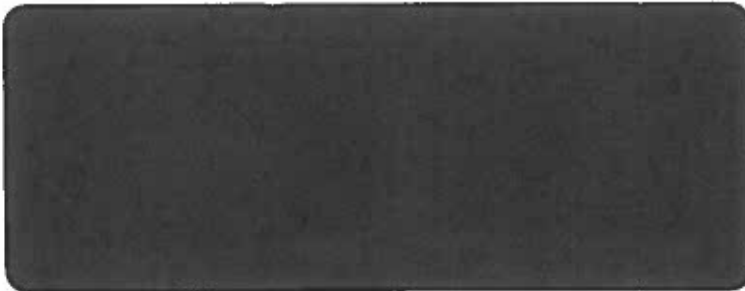

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

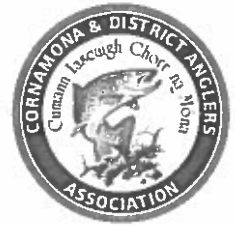

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

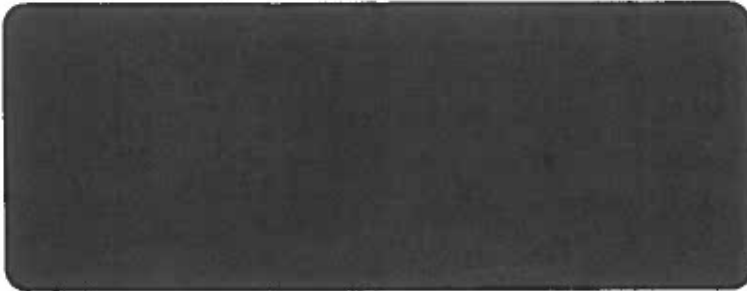

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Re: Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

I wish to express my full support for Minister Sean Kyne regarding the introduction of this Bye Law.

Furthermore, I believe that additional measures should be taken to protect our indigenous Salmonid species.

- 1. There should be no bag limit on pike in designated salmonid waters, as these predators have been the cause of the extermination of salmonids throughout the world.
- 2. All the designated wild brown trout fisheries should be given the same legislative protection under this Bye Law.
- 3. There should be two distinctly separate boards overseeing the game and coarse fisheries, with the board overseeing trout and salmon fisheries being geographically located along the western seaboard.
- 4. The close season as it applies to trout and salmon angling in the Designated Salmonid Waters, should equally apply to all angling activities.

Yours Sincerely

A solid black rectangular box redacting the signature of the sender.

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

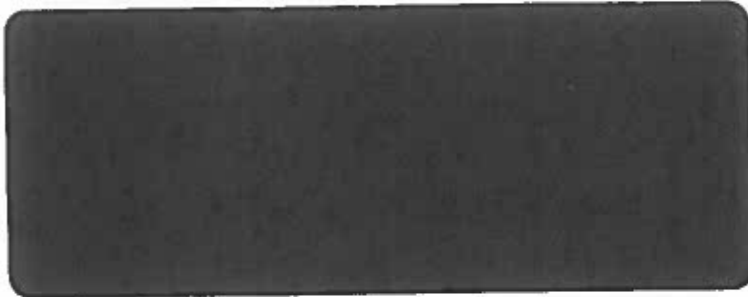

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

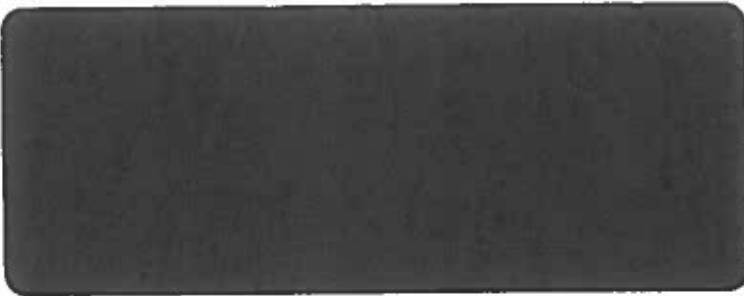

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

A solid black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

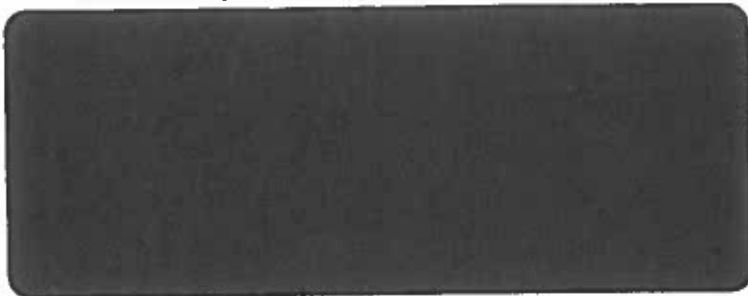

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.

Dear Minister

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

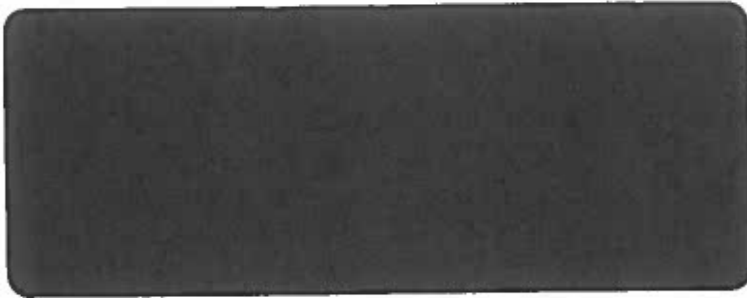

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A solid black rectangular box redacting the signature of the sender.

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Assets and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature area.

Dear Deputy,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

We seek your support for this Bye-Law as a means to protecting a National Treasure that is the envy of many.

If this is lost through the indifference of politicians it will never be reclaimed.

Yours sincerely

A large black rectangular redaction box covering the signature of the sender.

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Attn: Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

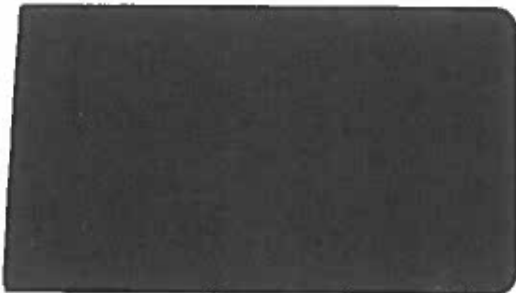

To whom it may concern,

I wholeheartedly support the proposed Bye Law which will provide the necessary Laws to Designate the 7 named lakes as Salmonid Waters and the daily bag limit of 4 pike per day.

This By-Law is essential to the survival of the Internationally Recognised Brown Trout Fisheries. The fisheries are some of the few remaining Brown Trout fisheries which we have the opportunity to save for future generations of Irish Anglers. These Fisheries are a National Asset which must be protected.

Yours Sincerely

Sean Kyne, T.D.
Department of Communications, Climate Action & Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan
Co. Cavan
H12 A8H7 Ireland

Reference: Public Consultation Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

18/05/2018

Dear Minister

I support the introduction of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland. Seven are named in the Bye-Law.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland
- We must protect the few remaining Brown Trout Lakes for future Generations.
- These Lakes are important National Asset's and deserve every Protection Possible.

Yours Sincerely

Member of Angling Club

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

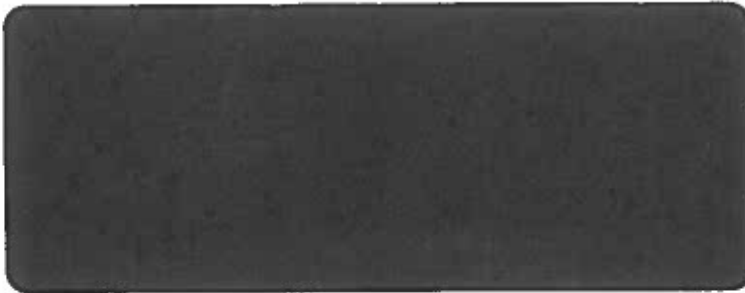

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

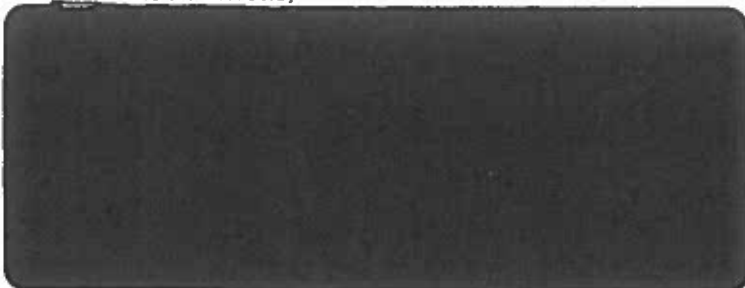

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

15/5/2018

A Chara,

I support the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

Legislation is needed to protect the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also to protect the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

I also feel that the bag limit should be 8 pike per rod per day, as pike are an invasive species.

Pike are predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

15th May 2018

Re: - Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018

Dear Deputy,

I am seeking your support to ensure the safe passage of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye Law 2018.

This Bye Law is essential in safeguarding Trout stocks in our Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries. There are fourteen Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries left in Europe thirteen of which are in Ireland.

All of the eminent scientists agree that.

- Brown Trout is an indigenous species to Ireland here since the Ice Age.
- Pike is a predator and needs to be controlled on Designated Wild Brown Trout Fisheries.
- The Preferred diet of Pike is Trout.
- The unlawful introduction of Pike into Brown Trout Fisheries has resulted in the near extinction of the native Brown Trout in those waters.
- Pike is regarded as Invasive.
- There are over Eight Thousand Pike fisheries in Ireland

While I support this Bye Law on Designated Salmonid Waters I would have wished it had been extended to all Designated Salmonid Waters rather than just seven.

I respectfully ask your support to ensure this Bye Law makes it on to the Statue books

Yours Sincerely,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

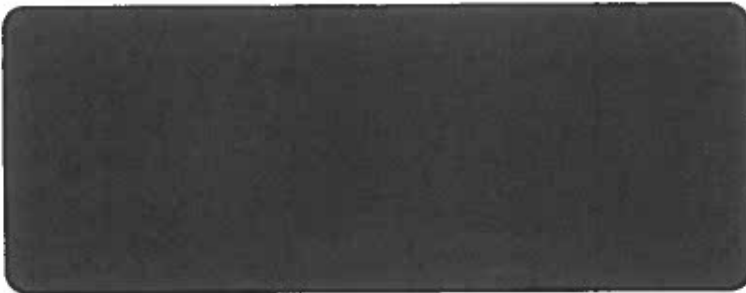

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye – Law 2018.

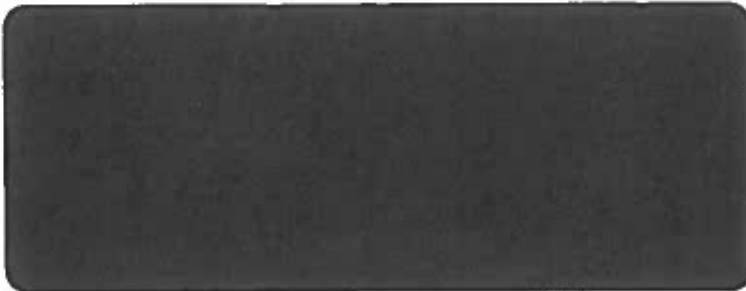

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye -Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

BRÁITREACT NA COIRIBE

(BROTHERHOOD OF THE CORRIB)

Founded 1953

Hurney's Hut
Hurneys Point
Built 1953

Annaghdown Hut
The Narrows
Built 1958

Founders' Hut
Fly Island
Built 1993

Secretary:

14/05/2018

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communication
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 ABH7
Ireland

Re: Designated salmonid Waters Bye-Law 2018

Dear Minister,

Since its inception in 1953 the club has played a significant role in the development and conservation of Lough Corrib as a wild salmonid fishery. The club and its members have invested heavily in the development of mooring facilities in Pordarragh, Moycullen and the construction of three angling huts, two of which are open access. To date the club has invested significant funds in the development of the Oughterard hatchery for the supply of trout fry, the development of streams and the management of pike. These activities coupled with other Lough Corrib clubs have been critical to developing and maintaining Lough Corrib as a salmonid fishery, which is now recognised internationally as a unique World Class salmonid fishery. The club welcomes the proposed Designated Salmonid bye-law by the Minister and as a significant stakeholder of lough Corrib the club and its members wishes to express its full support in its implementation.

Sincerely

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

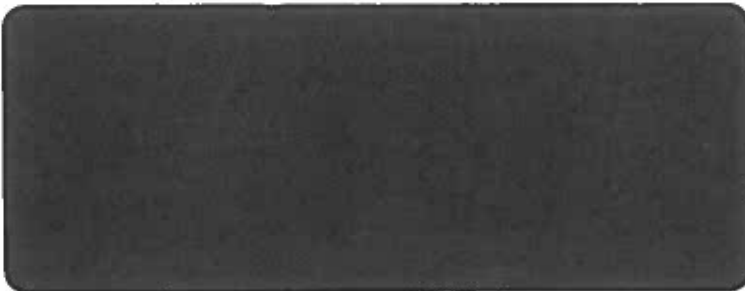

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

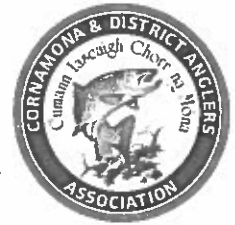

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye- law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

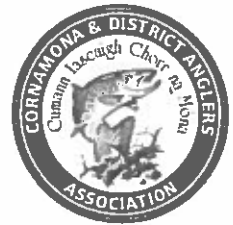

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Cumann Iascaigh Chorr na Móna Cornamona & District Anglers Association

Cornamona, Galway. (via Claremorris)

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

21/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

Dear Deputy,

We are writing to you requesting your support for Minister Sean Kyne's Designated Salmonid Waters Bye - Law 2018.

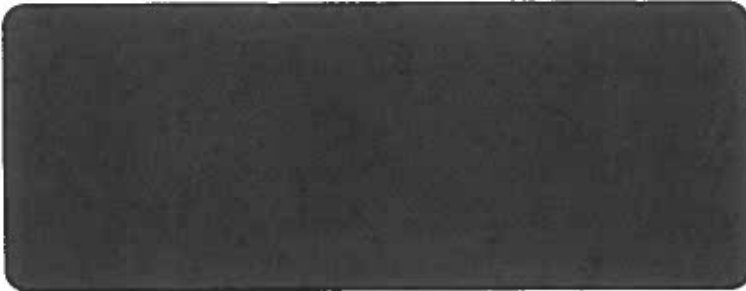

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons we seek your support for this bye-law.

Yours sincerely

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

20/5/2018

A Chara,

I am writing in support of the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye –Law 2018 as proposed by Minister Sean Kyne T.D.

This piece of legislation is paramount in the protection of the Great Western Lakes as Wild Brown Fisheries and also the protection of the Wild Atlantic Salmon, an endangered species.

Without proper protection both of these species will disappear in a short space of time.

Pike are the apex predator of both species and without adequate and proper control will decimate both populations.

It's for these reasons I support for this bye- law.

Mise le meas,

Inland Fisheries Division
Department of Communications
Climate Action and Environment
Elm House
Earlsvale Road
Cavan Town
H12 A8H7

23/5/2018

A Chara,

It is now the month of May 2018, a time of renewal, growth and vibrancy here around the Great Western Lakes. It is the season of the Mayfly.

A fly that attracts thousands of anglers from home and abroad to our local communities to fish for our world famous brown trout.

This allure has been sustained by generations of anglers. Wild Brown Trout are the attraction.

Without this native indigenous species those people would not come and there would be no Mayfly season or the banter and crack that is part of the Mayfly season.

This is why the Designated Salmonid Waters Bye-law 2018 is so important in that it aims to protect the native brown trout and all it entails around the Great Western Lakes even down to children picking mayflies and making a few euro.

The loss of these waters is unthinkable and I fully support the Minister Sean Kyne's intention to make the Designated Salmonide Waters Bye-Law.

Mise le meas,

